KING OF BIRDS

The guys in King Of Birds are songwriting brothers, Charlie and Stirling Gorman, from the village of Elderslie, 14 miles west of Glasgow in Scotland. Formed in 2014, they began writing songs which would form the foundations for their first, as yet untitled album, which is in the latter stages of completion and also the 4 song 'HarvestTime' E.P' due for release very soon. The brothers have featured on various radio stations here in Scotland and in the states. They have played shows all over Scotland, and recently supported some of Scotland's top artists including James Grant, JJ Gilmour, Roddy Hart and The Lonesome Fire.

JUNKMAN'S CHOIR

Hailing from the dark heart of Scotland's West Coast, Junkman's Choir evolved from the rootsy zydeco/cajun band Johnny Gator and the Bourréhillbillies and the Nyah Fearties; pioneers of the industrial folk punk scene in the late '80s.

The band has recorded three albums and three EPs since its formation in 2003, using a variety of sounds and instruments, alongside the core of guitar, accordion and trumpet. They have distilled their songwriting under the influence of Tom Waits, Joe Strummer, Manu Chao, Robert Burns and a host of other wandering souls. Open to a rich diversity, their music overflows with infectious stormers, shuffling rhythmic drivers and gritty ballads. They have supported acts such as Ocean Colour Scene, The Soweto Gospel Choir, Onthank Gaelic Choir and The Pogues.

PARTY FEARS THREE

"Re-engineering the Eighties for the 21st Century"

Now firmly established as one of the leading eighties cover/tribute bands in the UK, Party Fears Three bring you a show packed full of classic songs from the decade still regarded by many as one the most innovative and enduring periods in music ever. Using a combination of modern technology and vintage instrumentation, the band faithfully deliver sounds and visuals that strongly evoke the bands of the time yet at the same time updated for a modern audience and stamped with their own identity, making it an interesting and appealing night out for anyone that has an affinity for the great music of this era and something a little different from what you might expect from conventional tribute bands. Expect classic hits from the likes of The Human League, Duran Duran, Depeche Mode, Yazoo, Pet Shop Boys, Ultravox, Simple Minds, Tears For Fears, Erasure and many more in a fast paced show that will appeal to anyone who loves the irresistible music of this much-loved decade.

THE KICKS

Meet THE KICKS - one of the best wedding and function bands Scotland has to offer. A definitive power trio that includes the charismatic front man, the world class vocal and guitar playing John McIntyre, and one of the country's tightest rhythm sections - Neil MacDougall on drums and Steven Adamson on bass. THE KICKS cover a wide range of genres and styles with ease, and combine it with a live stage show that raises them above the competition.

LISA KOWALSKI

Young singer-songwriter Lisa Kowalski, from Paisley, has been gigging in venues, large and small, festivals, and even football stadiums for several years. Since she released her debut EP this year, interest has really stepped up a gear. She has won music competitions, grant funding and been played all over the radio. Lisa has formed a band of talented young musicians in order to recreate her songs as they sound on the critically acclaimed EP. Her set will also include brand new songs and some pop/Americana covers.

SEAN C KENNEDY

Sean C Kennedy is a Singer-Songwriter and guitarist from Ayrshire, Scotland. As well as being voted Best Acoustic Act at the Scottish Alternative Music Awards, Sean has worked with established artists and producers, such as Andy Taylor (Duran Duran), and co-written Watercolour Dreams and Still Hanging On with Nik Kershaw.

Influenced by the likes of Bonnie Raitt, Bryan Adams, Prince, Amos Lee, his parents would play music like this growing up as a kid. Sean began his musical career later at the age of 19 after a leg injury ended his football career. Sean has found a way to brilliantly blend these influences with his own pop, rock, blues, progressive style in order to create something unique. Spending most of his time in Nashville writing and performing Sean will be performing in the UK before his return to the States summer 2017.

THE KINKS EXPERIENCE

Re-creating the authentic live sound of The Kinks. Founding member, bass player and life-long Kinks fan Alan Drover (ex Skelter) and guitarist Peter McClurg (ex The Rhymes and Skelter) had considered the idea for years but the right line-up was illusive. Peter met Rikki McKay (ex Blackberry Jack and Kinks fan) and a plan was hatched to rehearse 3 songs, and what was originally an 'experiment' turned into something very special. Drummer Tommy Clark (The Seventh Sons, The Standards) and keyboard player Arnie Burgoyne (Echo and the Bunnymen) completed the line-up and the band have gone on to become one of the most musically and visually accurate Kinks tribute acts in the country. Playing authentic guitars, keys and amps to carefully keep the sound vintage, the band have worked hard on all the original arrangements of the songs - and they are all there from You Really got Me and Dead End Street to Waterloo Sunset and Lola.

GILCHRIST

GILCHRIST are an eight piece band of musicians and songwriters who love playing up-beat, funky rock songs with a little soul thrown in. They released the debut album 'Funky Philosophy' in November 2014, and played gigs all over Scotland, as well as the odd trip down to London. The feedback they received from was great and resulted in the band signing a publishing deal with Long Lunch Music, as well as appearing on STV's 'Live at Five' show in February 2016. They worked with award winning producer Steve Power, who mixed some new tracks for the band in Oct 2016. They have since released two EPs featuring some of these tracks.

DEEP RIVER BLUES BAND

High Energy 5 piece band
covering classic country,

americana, rock 'n' roll and any other good stuff
that takes our fancy.

BOMBSKARE

Introducing the bishops of bounce, the sorcerers of skank, the undisputed masters of Scottish death reggae, the one and only Bombskare - the closest thing you'll see to an actual northern powerhouse. This nine headed, ska demon has been tearing up stages the length and breadth of the British Isles since before The Crusades.
Reaching zero to sixty skanking miles from a standing start, they combine top quality,

dancealong songs with incredible punctuality,
leaving every stage like Tokyo following a visit from Godzilla. Renowned for their technical prowess, as much as their infectious ska anthems, they combine lush, three-part harmonies with choppy guitar attacks and an explosive horn section to truly blow the audience away. These guys know about getting a crowd to dance!

GRAND CENTRAL

One of the hardest working wedding and function bands in Scotland, Grand Central have caused quite a stir since taking the Glasgow Wedding Band scene by storm a few short years ago. The perfect way to finish the Beer Festival with a set list of popular songs!
